FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK - - -

As we observe Father's Day this weekend, I wish to extend the best of blessings to all our dads. Fathers are important in the home environment. We take Saint Joseph as our model for humble self-service and servant leadership in our families. Fathers have a great influence on their children's spiritual growth by the example of their own faith. Let us respect the role of our fathers and let us keep them in our prayers. Being a good father and a good mother is a challenge in today's environment.

I will be away at the beginning of this week. I plan to visit some former parishioners of mine that I have not seen for quite awhile. I will return some time on Wednesday.

There are many people in Bridgeport affected by water in their basements including myself. Since there is mold growing in my basement, and I have some respiratory problems, I am spending the nights sleeping at the parish center until the problem is remedied. Since we have good coverage by Catholic Mutual, our insurance will cover all or most of the expense. Gary's Restoration will gut much of the basement, clean, and remove the mold. I will still work upstairs during the day. Earlier in May the roofs of the Rectory and garage were totaled by hail. The roofs will be reshingled. Some painting will also need to be done. Catholic Mutual will also cover this. Sometimes we complain about the cost of the property and liability insurance with Catholic Mutual of Omaha, but they are good in coming through for us in times of need.

This past week Pope Francis issued his new encyclical on the environment, including a section on global warming. There is bound to be some controversy. Not everyone will agree with everything contained in the encyclical. However this is not intended to be an infallible statement. If nothing else, it is a good reminder for the US and the world that God created everything directly or indirectly and that humankind has a duty to take care of the environment and to care for the well-being of the people of the world. Let's consider the document in that light.

DID YOU KNOW? GOD BLESS YOU! In 600 AD, Pope Gregory the Great is said to have coined the phrase "God bless you" for when someone sneezed. The Justinian Plague which began in 541 AD is so called because it took place while Justinian I was emperor of the Byzantine Empire. It is said to have killed 5,000 people a day, or 25 million people worldwide. An early symptom of the plague was sneezing. By saying "God bless you," people hoped that the disease could be halted in the one who had sneezed.
